Comments: Tourists and locals alike visit Mendenhall Glacier to enjoy rugged Alaskan beauty. Alaska is meant to be wild; keep the Mendenhall true to its wild nature. I don't support building additional amenities or boats in Mendenhall lake. People come to Alaska for its wildness, so let's keep Alaska wild. Don't turn the Mendenhall into Disneyland just because it has a lot of visitation. People come to the Mendenhall to see wildness, not Disneyland. If they wanted to see Disneyland, they would go to California. I do support improvements to the nearby trail systems, but I don't support banning bikes. Bikes are not going to go there during the summer because there is too much human traffic anyway. Banning bikes would limit locals who would be riding in the shoulder season, when there are few tourists. I do support selectively banning dogs. I suggest keeping the area open to dogs, and then revoking that privilege for a few months at a time when dog owners irresponsibly don't pick up their dog poop. This will help train Juneau locals to pick up their dog poop on this trail and on other trails throughout town.
