Comments: I would ask that the group selection harvest treatment be better explained. How large in acreage will these 'groups' or small openings be and how many? What's the oversight on this and what company will be doing the cuts? This area is very sentimental to me and my family going back generations and I would not like to see it's beauty destroyed. I am all about creating a healthy forest as long as it's done properly and with consideration of those that live nearby or spend time enjoying the beauty of this area.

Thank you
