Comments: Please fill your own comments here! Our property backs up on to Carabou National Forest in Idaho. about 3 years ago a local trail was graded and turned into an ATV loop trail. Since that time we have lost much of the tranquility for horseback riding to say nothing of the danger when motorcycles and side by sides pass us with minimal slowing down. The locals pretty much understand what horses are about but the out of state ATV rental people are clueless with turnovers etc. in just our little area. Think twice before expanding for further off-road use. And don't think just because a sign says don't drive off trail that that will happen. NOT! Jerry Barstow
