Comments: A prescribed fire that we have undergone here in NM has now caused the biggest fire in the state's history.

This also seems suspicious as it is right next to a ski area which is probably pulling political strings.

The trees that will be harvested also seems that this project is a thinly veiled attempt at further exploitation of a wilderness area and all timber should be left in place and not removed if this project is not stopped before it occurs. Further the roads that will be built to remove the timber will be poorly removed and denaturalized if my experience is any guide. Leave the forest and wilderness alone.

I am not in favor of this plan
