Comments: Thank you for planning to restore the Cube Cove area of the Kootznoo Wilderness after years of logging and road building.

I write to request that this area be allowed to continue recovery on its own. (The best part: that's super cheap!) I've read that current plans include Tree cutting and removal along lakes and streams and other projects using heavy equipment, chainsaws, helicopters, and motor vehicles. Please, we are having a worldwide climate crisis and none of those things will help. And if reclaimed roads are converted to trails, please make sure to mitigate the impacts on wildlife from increased human use.

Thank you for your consideration.
