Comments: Using heavy equipment just means more damage and maybe new roads to do it.

Let it be.

Has any analysis of the effects of this idea been done and posted?

Why not just let the system recover it's self. Leave it alone. Lte the ecosystem do what it does and grow back where and when it wants with the animals the depend on it adding to the health of the area.

The more humans intervene, the more destruction is likely.

I would say no, just leave it alone.
