Comments: It's the Trees

Those who embrace the Trees or those who care not their presence those humans willing to conquer in their thinking Nature and her gifts Her tests and disregard rooted in another way beyond their sight or seeming lack of comprehension the Trees give to them anyway elements of life and comfort perhaps undeserved in cold or summer's hot breath wilting all in a world gone mad alienation from this here creation dwindling before the very eyes beholding it as She slips away today yesterday and into the troubled future
