

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/25/2022 3:03:46 PM

First name: Michael

Last name: Bills

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Old growth and mature forests are borderline irreplaceable, and must be protected by our government. Individual trees take hundreds of years to grow, but the soil, fungal, and microclimate conditions required to create and sustain a forest ecosystem take millennia to develop.