Comments: I am writing to express the strongest support possible for the strongest protections possible for what remains of our old growth forests. Such strong standards and practices could have been in place long before now. We have known how critically important old growth forests are for a very long time, so it is well beyond time for strong measures.

Our environment is facing threats on a scale never before seen or experienced. We must do what intelligence dictates, what rational care for the environment, for the earth, dictates. Go strong for the environment!

Thank you for making room for these comments.
