

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/28/2022 9:05:02 PM

First name: dell

Last name: goldsmith

Organization:

Title:

Comments: As the climate warms and drought persists we need to protect our forests, especially old growth forests more fiercely than ever. Mature trees help hold carbon and help keep the forest cool, giving time for other plants and creatures to adapt.

If we continue to ignore climate damage we may reach a point of no return.