Comments: "Based on emerging science it is time to focus squarely on maximizing the potential of the forests we already have. No other strategy is as effective immediately and in the coming decades when we need it most. Forests can mitigate the climate crisis significantly and protect many species from extinction if we allow them to function as they have been doing for millions of years." <https://blog.frontiersin.org/2019/08/13/forests-global-change-proforestation-usa/>

Please ensure that this plan protects all mature forests, aged 80 and above, from logging - so they can continue sequestering carbon and providing vital intact habitat.

Please protect the Great Gulf Inventoried Roadless area, adjoining the Great Gulf Wilderness from logging. Public lands must be preserved for the great public good of sequestering carbon and providing vital intact habitat. There is more than enough private land to satisfy the wood market.
