Comments: Hello,

Our voice matters in the fight to create lasting protections for our remaining mature and old-growth forests. These older forests are critical in combating climate change and the biodiversity crisis. We know from past experience that for true change to happen, public demand must be overwhelming. That is why I write in urgency to protect what is ancient and sacred, and should be kept for millennia to come in wake of President Biden's Earth Day Executive Order.

Thank you,
