

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/30/2022 4:28:09 PM

First name: Ellen

Last name: Edge

Organization:

Title:

Comments: We need our old growth forests as valuable habitat for a multitude of animal species and as an already existing tool to fight climate change. The old growth forests absorb carbon. We need to preserve these in our fight against climate change. It is frightening the extreme weather we are now experiencing. I feel strongly that we can't waste time in taking action to combat climate change as we are already feeling the effects of it!