Comments: Just wanted to comment that as a rural Alaskan small business and fishing family we support climate protections for Tongass forests of all ages. Like many Southeast Alaskans, i can see the Tongass National Forest from every window in my home. That's my perspective.

It takes a long time to grow mature forests in Southeast Alaska, due to our relatively wet and cool climate. I hope we can educate more Americans about the value of our Alaska forests as lungs for the world. Please do all you can to protect our forests and educate people here and around the country about their value for climate justice!
