

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/30/2022 11:45:15 PM

First name: Sarah

Last name: Moon

Organization:

Title:

Comments: We need these old growth trees desperately to combat climate change. There has got to be a better way to approach this issue. I work in deconstruction, where we dismantle old homes and sell the good old wood to builders and recycle the rest. It feels like a great option to avoid cutting down the big giant beauties that fix tons of carbon and provide homes for massive unknown numbers of living creatures. Please consider something else.