Comments: The expansion of the holland lake lodge. In the perspective of myself and many others, It is seen as a money grab. We fully understand that more accommodations will bring more money to the park, but it will also bring more people. People that want to take selfies with bison, walk off the paths for their social media, defy rules of the park, and take advantage of our local economy for their own gain. Locals alike ask that you do not follow through with this expansion as it will subtract from the natural, original, national park style and feeling that is meant to be received the second you drive past the welcome sign. Please consider my words and the words of many others.

Thank you.
