Comments: The sudden news of this was first disturbing for it felt like they were not wanting too much attention to the development. Because of the buyers being a major corporation who are use to having business in huge overdeveloped areas leads to another concern of what they are trying to create. The wonderful aspect of Condon is "old Montana" what it use to be like before the state became overrunned with rich exploits. A big concern is any ski area being put in here would be horrific, so not trusting the motives of Powdr. We live right down the road so traffic concerns on Hwy 83 is a worry. If they just upgrade and keep the authentic nature of Holland Lake then it might be a benefit to the community. Thank you for listening to my concerns.
