Comments: This huge project is going to bring too many tourists to the area and it is already maxed out. The Loveall family has an original homestead off of Guest Ranch Road and I have been visiting Holland Lake my whole life (59 years) and even now I am sickened by the high amount of traffic going up to the falls, not to mention the people on the lake. It is almost as bad as going to a mall. Recently I hiked to Morrell Falls and there were actually people pushing baby strollers on the trail. Unbelievable!!! I can't believe the forest service is letting this happen, This is going to lead to multiple grizzly bears being euthanized due the the increased likelihood of human contact. Already at our cabin there was a grizzly mom and 2 cubs relocated. There is also a "neighborhood" off of Glacier Creek Road / Remmick Road and it looks like 100 houses are going in. What happened to not being allowed to subdivide your property to less than 20 acres in order to protect the grizzly bears, isn't the Swan Valley a grizzly corridor? This is literally making me cry. The out of state elites are going to takeover the whole area and ruin it . The Valley will be lost to shopping malls and spas. Just like the Bitterroot , we are paving paradise. As you mom says, "I am glad I am old and will die before it gets any worse." Sad isn't it?
