Comments: I rarely publicly comment on these types of issues, but this is too important to not....Holland Lake has been a treasure that holds my fondest memories from my youth when my Dad could break away from farming to bring our family to camp every summer. I've brought my own kids there often and just this past summer, my grandkids, who love the lake as much as I do. Please, please, please do not let this project move forward, can we just have "Corporate America" stay out of Montana's best places? We can't afford lose any more than will NEVER be the same after "development" that really only benefits the already rich. I just read an article about the Gallatin turning green from pollution for the 5th straight year due to too much high end development. My heart aches when I think of the direction Montana seems to be headed...
