Comments: I am vehemently against this proposal at Holland Lake Lodge. Not only can the roads up there, nor this sweet little lake, handle this large of a resort, it is terrible to think that a greedy developer will come into this fairly pristine, back-country spot to build yet another high-end, private resort catering to the out-of-state ultra rich, and continue to strip locals of our beautiful places. Surely there is a better proposal out there than this one, which deforests the land and glitizes up the back-country. I am not against expansion, nor redelopment, but I am against this gross privatization. Don't let the show "Yellowstone" go to our heads, Montana is not to be locked up by the über-rich.
