Comments: The first time I came to this area I was expecting it to be much less than it already is... I couldn't believe the busyness & crowded feel when I was anticipating something much more raw. I found smaller campgrounds near by that suit me better. But expanding...?! It completely takes away from the experience most want when they visit this beautiful place. The entire area will be slowly depleted of the Montana everyone loves if this takes over, because like me, people will start reaching out for more of the space, peace & quiet, which is what this state is known for.
