Comments: I grew up spending summers camping and hiking along at Holland Lake. In my opinion, it would be a tragic loss to turn a beautiful natural area like this one into a large resort. This development will negatively affect all wildlife, including the endangered grizzly bear. There will also be increased crowds and traffic that will harm the environment.

Commercialization of wild areas in Montana like this is leading to the destruction of our beautiful state. It will be just another thing ruined for locals by tourists.
