Comments: Why do corporations just see the greed and not the beauty they are destroying? I've been to Montana and it is such a beautiful and breathtaking place. However, Glacier National Park has no more glaciers because of climate change. Fires are becoming the norm in Montana which is due to climate change. People can go other places in Montana where there are lodges and the such. No more tearing down trees, digging up the earth and, most importantly, taking away the habitat for many animals. Please do not allow this to happen. Thank you for your consideration.
