Comments: My hope for the future of Montana, I live in the Midwest area. My family frequently visits my daughter who resides in Missoula. We just arrived home actually. Seeing condos being built along the river in Missoula is disheartening, but that is a city and understandable. We hiked up to the falls at Holland lake, swam in the lake afterwards. So beautiful! I was shocked when I saw jet skies and power boats flying around. We love Montana! The thought of Holland lake becoming another tourist trap, filled with the rich snobs and corporations makes me sad. I have that in my home area! It's called Lake Geneva!

I urge you to push back on this expansion into the wild, let the wild stay wild. I'd say replace the buildings, but keep the condos, lodging out of the plans. If I want to see too many people and power boats, I'll save my money, I'll stay here in Wisconsin! Keep Montana wild and rugged! Thanks
