Comments: Holland Lake is like a hidden treasure of Montana and if there's an expansion that'll include tearing down trees and affecting the wildlife and environment, it's not gonna be a hidden treasure. It's going to become a chaotic mess. Where people didn't have to worry as much as finding a place to camp up there, people will now have to worry if there will be spots. Don't let a big corporation ruin the beauty and history of Holland Lake.
