Comments: Holland Lake is one of the pristine lakes in the Seeley-Swan. The current campground is small and highly sought after by Montana families. We value this lake because it is usually quiet and used by people who generally understand camping etiquette. The historic Lodge and cabins may be in need of updates , but the rustic feel of the place is its appeal. As a native Montanan, the spread of high-end resorts in Western Montana is turning these public lands into playgrounds for the wealthy who often do not have the same respect for wilderness and wild lands that are vital to Montana. Please reconsider and reject this project.
