Comments: Do not fast track this project and grant a Special Use Permit without the proper environmental Impact Statement and Environmental Assessment. Such an immense project should never be allowed to shortcut the proper avenues for approval. I am not opposed to the idea of updating the property or even adding a bit to the current capacity, but the proposal on the table is such a major expansion that there is no way the original character will be preserved or that the impact on the environment and the natural ecosystems in the area will be minor.

Holland Lake is a beloved destination for many, and the surrounding area is home to others. This development will drastically alter the economy of the area, likely making it less accessible for local Montanans, and less attractive as an entrance to the Bob Marshall wilderness.
