Comments: I have another address in Polson, MT where my family has owned a cabin, hand-built by my father, since the 1950s. All around our area, people have scooped away the old places, blasted rock, banished wildlife, and erected castle-like homes that they rarely visit. The purity of the lake water is endangered. Do you really want to do this to sweet, rare little Holland Lake? Please, don't let this happen. Some places are worth more than money, and this is one.
