Comments: Our "Montana" is slipping away...

Holland lake is a beautiful, pristine location and the dirt around the lake is completely owned by the Forest Service. If the Forest Service sells to big money corporations who want to develop massive destination get-aways, our special, scenic locations will be gone.

Furthermore, as I understand it, an environmental impact study doesn't even need to be done for this purchase due to the fact the Holland Lake Lodge is considered an existing structure. The ecosystem there is at risk.

IF YOU CARE, comment and OPPOSE this potential development.
