Comments: I am opposed to the large expansion of Holland Lake Lodge by its new owners, POWDR. I first visited Holland Lake in the 1980s, and have been there many times over the years. Most recently I camped in the Holland Lake Campground with my family in 2022. When I was there I thought how amazing it was that the lake and the lodge remained much as it was when I first visited almost 40 years ago. What a shame it would be to see it turned into just another enclave for the very rich, rather than remain a place that everyday Montanans can enjoy. The lodge could be updated and new cabins built as long as it remains on the same footprint. The expansion will affect the public's right to enjoy the area and camp at Holland Lake. Not everything in Montana needs to become a getaway for the rich tourists. There's too much of that happening already. Keep Holland Lake Lodge small and not intrusive. That's how it's always been and why Holland Lake remains such a special place that regular working people can still enjoy and recreate at. Thank you.
