Comments: Do not presume the project will make major benefit, people who live there or hike may not visit a place where it has been touched by corporations who value money more than actual natural habitats. If this project like proceeds Montana is ruined. Natural establishments will continue to decrease the more trees are cut off. It's sad to see change in beautiful states like Montana. Like some areas of Brandon where I reside used to be beautiful now it's filled with buildings it's transitioning into city life. Which I drove 200+miles away from, where there's more people more laws, more regulations less freedom.

Thank you for reading have a nice day.

Sincerely,

Cesar Bermudez.
