Comments: Holland Lake is a special place. It's a place for people to go and feel small. It differs from most lakes in our beautiful state, because it maintains its ability to help people disconnect from the things in their lives that weigh them down and gives them the opportunity to reconnect with nature. Please don't allow another jewel of Montana to lose its soul. We've lost so much already. Holland lake and the surrounding wilderness are a sanctuary. One that we must protect.
