Comments: Holland Lake is a Montana treasure. This project on forest service land does not seem, to me, to fit with the mission of the forest service. It feels rushed. I hope that public comment will be considered and that more research will go into the environmental impact of such a project.

I am also worried that Holland lake will become a play area for rich out of staters, pushing locals away. One of the reasons I recreate at Holland lake is because it is so undeveloped. There are so few lakes like Holland lake left in western Montana. I hope we can keep lake as a treasure for all Montanans.

Thanks for considering my comments.
