Comments: It is really disappointing that this is even being considered. I've been visiting this lake since I was a child and have so many fond memories there. Its a beautiful pristine lake that generally stays very quiet and low key. And whatever the motives of approving this project even if its a small injection to the local economy is not worth it at all. We have a special thing going in Montana with its pristine lakes. I went to school and lived in Utah and its not even close to the same. Don't let this company ruin another area like they have in many places in Utah.
