Comments: Hello Parks department,

After reviewing the Holland Lake improvements, it is very clear the project will have adverse negative impact.

The current state is not only what residence prefer and visitors alike.

But also it would change the nature diversity. These " improvements "would disrupt intact trees the foliage which Inhabits many different plant and animal species. Such wildness is of more value than the huge improvements might bring and can ever add. The natural state once disturbed could never return to what it is now.

Therefore, the Parks department role given the above concerns is to help preserve this national

Nature beauty in its current state and get feed back from the community of residences and local Businesses and include all affected. In order, to use this feedback to make reasonable improvements which will preserve the land and lake as a whole.
