Comments: Don't let POWDR do what they did to Lake Tahoe, Mount Bachelor, and Utah ski resorts. Holland Lake is precious...a natural treasure in the Last Best Place...prioritize the natural landscape, not a fancy restaurant and high end accommodations the average citizen cannot afford.

How many grizzlies will be slaughtered following the surge of unwary out of state visitors dabbling in the Bob Marshall? How many more motorized water will the expansion result in (deteriorating the soundscape and tainting the prestige water)? What are the science supported impacts/externalities reasonably anticipated to result from the proposed corporate expansion?

There is no reason to not take a serious and meaningful look at the consequences of the proposed expansion. The scoping document is dead wrong to presume this mega-development can be "categorically excluded" from the prior preparation of an Environmental Assessment or Environmental Impact Statement. Such shortcuts are intended for constructing an outhouse or a tool shed, not a destination resort!
