Comments: We do not want private commercial development (or development of any kind) on Holland lake. This is public land for public recreation. Ideally the leases should be canceled. The buildings that currently exist should be put under charge of the USFS. The USFS should decide whether to keep the buildings and make them rentable through recreation.gov or tear them down completely in favor of primitive camp sites.

Private commercial development will ruin the natural beauty of Holland Lake and restrict access by the public to the upper middle class who can afford to stay at whatever monstrosity they build. If this company from Utah wants to destroy public land, they should stick to their own state subject to the same sort of public commentary of course.
