Comments: Holland Lake is one of the last beautiful, serene areas that has not been allocated for only those wealthy enough to afford being there. It is a delightful, safe and clean recreational area that families in Montana have been going to for years. Two of our family members were married on the banks of Holland Lake and the views and serenity were those that guests were absolutely overwhelmed by. Progress, in this case, does not mean bigger and better, but in leaving this delightful small lodge as it is, so it can continue to be that one small gem in one's memory of what Montana really is.. land of beauty, solitude, peace, and purity
