Comments: My family has been visiting/vacationing at Holland Lake Lodge since the 1960's. It is a jewel in the chain of lakes in that valley. In addition, our family has had two weddings at the lodge (decades apart) and marveled at the pristine condition of the lake and grounds during both events. The environment around this lodge site, not to mention the lake, will be irreparably altered with such a large installation of buildings and parking. Cutting 200 trees will destroy the beauty and all that activity will pollute the lake. So much for a beautiful Montana lake. Holland Lake is being sold out so rich people who don't live in Montana or care about the natural resources can make another buck. This is so discouraging. The so called employment this brings to the area will be minimum wage/seasonal jobs for the most part and the lake will be destroyed. As we cease to preserve the beautiful natural areas that are left in our country in exchange for monetary gain for a few we lose our very soul.
