Comments: DO NOT DO IT! I've been going to Holland with my family ever since I can remember. It's a beautiful hidden gem and part of what makes living in Montana so special. With all of the development and gentrification already taking over our towns I couldn't bare to see something similar happen to such a beautiful place. It's only a matter of time before what's happening to our more popular tourist areas like Yellowstone becomes too much for Mother Nature to support do not burden her any more in an attempt at making rich out of state developers even more wealthy.
