Comments: Being born and raised in Montana, I have witnessed the large changes it has gone through. The cost of living has gone up immensely. Almost every other license plate is out of state. Public land is turning private. It's hard to see how different it has become, I understand change is going to occur no matter what. We do have a say in certain things, this being one of them. I strongly disagree with this "improvement." Montana needs to stay wild, no more making it common and covered in buildings.
