Comments: Read the comments on the Holland Lake Lodge Facebook page and you see what we've experienced: "a magical place," "crystal clear water," "great hospitality." Or, camp on the Forest Service property next door - as we also have done - and wake up to one of the most beautiful, peaceful views in Montana: bluebird skies, perfect waters and foothills of the storied Bob Marshall Wilderness. What would Bob himself think about outsiders building a massive mega-resort on land facing his perfectly wild wilderness? Not much, I'm guessing. Please, Forest Service, do not allow the character of this property to change.
