Comments: After reviewing the plan proposal, my first question is why or how would a project of this scale not require an environmental impact evaluation? To say a complete environmental impact evaluation isn't required due to simply replacing buildings that already exist on the proposed site is irresponsible and negligent; again due to the scale of the proposed plan. If this plan is approved and the construction comes to fruition it will definitely negatively impact the wildlife, the beauty and draw of outdoorsmen and women, and the overall user satisfaction. It will simply be another tourist destination and a huge loss to locals and true outdoorsmen and women. If you've ever been through Estes Park Colorado you have asked yourself, who approved this and then self or group comments on greed and how something so beautiful could become so developed and ruined. Please consider not being part of something so beautiful being destroyed for the sake of someone making a profit. If you are truly concerned with user satisfaction and impact of national lands, then please do not approve this plan.

Very respectfully
