Comments: This project proposition is an atrocity to even be remotely considered on public land. I am appalled the Forest Service has even considered this as a viable option in an area adjacent to the Bob Marshall Wilderness and in the middle of an intact ecosystem in the Swan Valley. Not only is this a threat to many species of wildlife due to increased use, it's a threat to the wilderness character of the region, as well as the watershed and natural resources on the ground. I am blown away, disappointed in the Forest Service, and hope the letters of approval will bring this project to a halt.
