Comments: Hello,

I'm writing on behalf of the land, animals and humans who love them in Missoula. You cannot tear up the land and repurpose it and expect not to cause more damage and pollution. I was reading the very vague project details. Repurpose and building what exactly, how?

There needs to be details in the details. We need to ensure the quality of air and water. Building more structures is not the solution. Please consider the people that live in Missoula and why people chose and continue to choose to live and invest their lives there. There are enough sold out cities in this country. Trust me, I live in one.

Please consider the natural resources, some of the most precious we have left are right there.

Don't sell out Montana. Don't tear it up either.

Thank you kindly,

Jaclyn Baird
