Comments: I am stating my concern about the project. I am from Montana, but I recently moved to North Dakota for work. Montana is Montana because it is one of the last places that has not been overtaken by out of staters. I frequently come home to enjoy what Montana has to offer, but with more and more being bought up and more and more people building, Montana is slowly being lost. Montanans are slowly losing their great state. Keep Montana the way it is intended to be for future generations to enjoy.
