Comments: I am a life long Montanan. My family has been in the Missoula area for a 150 yrs. So there has been alot of change thruout the years. But to raze this beloved lodge & area for the sake of out of staters looking for a higher class vacation is another stupid idea that our state is subjected to deal with. You the Forest Service is a voice for our way of life. Don't screw it up to please the rich land developers. They care nothing about this area except for a money making scheme for them. As Big Sky is going to be over developed so will Holland Lake be. We only have so many of these wonderful places for the people of Montana to bring their families & enjoy. Don't be a part of that destruction of our values and beautiful areas.
