Comments: Lake Holland is an outdoor space that many including myself have used to recreate and not be bothered but tourists. This place is sacred to Montana and should continue to be preserved from tourists who trash the site. Implementing more lodging will have a negative impact on the environment. It will pollute the running water of the lake by adding sediment that should not be there. This will also impact the soil composition. The wildlife who live there will lose habitat. The proposed lodging plan will also negatively impact those who live close to Lake Holland by making it more of a commercial space rather than a recreational retreat. Please think of the Montanans rather than tourists when making this decision.
