Comments: I strongly oppose this obvious effort to make an already wealthy out of state company even more money by exploiting public land. THIS IS PUBLIC LAND-not a corporate development!!! The beauty and mystique of Montana as we know it comes from not having this kind of development in our most beautiful places. Go check out a trail or a lake in Boulder Colorado. That place is crawling with so many people it will make your head spin. We do not want Montana to look like that. I sincerely hope our government will not aid in commercializing the wild places we hold most dear. I was born and raised in Montana and have lived here my entire life. It's heartbreaking to see the corporations move in and completely change these incredible landscapes with development and rampant out of state tourism. Projects like this are harming our state in the name of the almighty dollar. Once Holland Lake is turned into a rich man's playground, it's character and wild beauty are lost forever. It's time to take a stand and stop this unchecked commercialism of our public lands.
