Comments: In roaming through You Tube I found a video about the "improvements" for Holland Lake Lodge and surrounds. I haven't read anything about this in the papers or hear anything about it on the radio. The video says there hasn't been an Environmental Study on the property but there are plans to cut 200 full grown trees, tear down buildings, build a restaurant and more cabins while tearing down outbuildings. How this situation became this far without the public knowing about it strikes me as underhanded if not illegal. What out-of-state political person put this into place? This area has been just fine for all these years and I see no reason why an out-of-state business should come in and tear it up for their profit. Shame!
